on 10/18/25 i held a model marathon in detroit, michigan (cork town) where i attempted to photograph 50 models in one day. I used a white backdrop and requested that each wear either all black or all white clothing, most came in all black. I hosted this event in the unopened street beet that megan so graciously let me use free of charge. there were well over 50+ inquiries but only 30 or so showed up, which I think was a great turnout. it's all appreciated in the long run of course, I was just happy to snap a few that day tbh. here are 21 of my fav's from the event.
